here comes a time when we grow old And like a sunset down the sca lope gradual, and the night wind cold

The leaves all weary drift away,
And lips of faded coral say, here comes a time when we grow old

There comes a time when joyous hearts, Which leaped as leaped the imighing

As pilsoner in his dungeon chain And dawn of day Hath passed away, the meen bath into darkness relied Thore comes a time when manhood prime Te shrouded in the mist of years

And beauty, failing like a dream, Thath passed away in silent tears And then how dak! But ohl the spark That kindled youth to lines of gold, there cemes a time when taught And golden summer cease to be,

With rosy hope, eyond the sunset we behold Another dawn with face, hight Which witchers whisper through
